PAIN AND ADDICTION MECHANISMS AND MANAGEMENT

November 5, 2025 • 7:30 am – 6:00 pm • Health Sciences Innovation Building, Forum

Please join the faculty and members of the Comprehensive Center for Pain & Addiction, the Center for Excellence in Addiction Studies, and College of Medicine – Tucson Department of Pharmacology for an all-day event featuring a full lineup of nationally recognized leaders in addiction and chronic pain.

Learn about:

- The overlapping neurobiology of chronic pain and opioid use disorder
- Mechanistic links between chronic pain, opioid use disorder and sleep
- Discovery of novel therapies for treatment of chronic pain with diminished risks of addiction
- And more!

Event highlights:

- Keynote presentation from Dr. Allan Basbaum, member of the National Academy of Sciences.
- A dynamic DataBlitz session will feature our trainees as they present their most recent advancements in pain research.
- Poster session where faculty and students can interact with invited speakers.
